All About Your Yearly Relationship Report

Robert Lee Camp's

This report will give you an in-depth look at some of your personal relationships over a period of time, usually one year, but sometimes longer depending upon what you requested. Each person in your life that you wanted to know about has his or her own section that tells how he or she will relate to you in the given time period. Thus, if you had asked to do three different people for a certain year, you will have a section for each person. In a similar manner, all the people for one particular year will be in the same major section. If you have more than one year, there will be chapters in this report based upon each of the years. The years go by your age. So, if you are currently 45 years old and had asked for two years of reports, there will be a chapter for Age 45 and one for Age 46, and within each of those chapters will be a section for each person on your list of Friends that you wanted your report for.

The Connections that exist between the Two of You

The method that we use to determine influences and compatibility between people uses what we call Connections. These connections usually have planetary names, such as Mercury, Venus, Mars, etc. But some have other names like Displacement, Result, or Environment. In all cases, the connection between you and someone else is derived from their relationship to you in the current year's cards. Every connection will be explained as they occur so you do not need to understand this system in order to benefit from this report.

These yearly influences between you and those you know are important. You can find that one year you are very compatible with someone and then it changes dramatically after your next birthday. Another common example is where someone is playing a prominent role in your life but then just sort of fades away as the year ends. Both these examples can be explained by the yearly relationship influences. It is definitely helpful to know what these influences are ahead of time. It is good, however, to keep in mind that you have life-long influences with everyone in your life, which are, in most respects, more important and more powerful than the yearly influences that come and go. This report intentionally does not touch upon these, but you should be aware of them nonetheless. If you would like to learn more about your life-long connections with others, you can read the book, Love Cards, or get a regular relationship report where you got this one.

Regular verses Underlying Card Connections

Often, your connections with someone will come from a connection found in your Underlying Cards. These can be many or few in number. Underlying Card connections are not quite as strong or powerful as the regular connections. As you read about the connections you have with each person on your list, keep this in mind. Having a regular connection with someone is a much greater influence and gives a much stronger probability that the two of you will have some important interactions in the given year. Underlying Card connections can be helpful if you want to see if someone will show up in the period or not.

We hope you enjoy this report. We think you will find it insightful, accurate, and helpful in your understanding of the influence of others in your life.

Your First Connection

Kamala is Mars to You This Year

For this particular year, Kamala will have a Martian influence upon you. And depending upon the nature of your relationship with her, this could have several possible results. Mars is the god of war and lust and activity. A Mars connection like this could cause competition between you, or in the case of a romantic relationship, a high amount of sexual tension and attraction. If you have a romantic relationship with Kamala you will find that you have more attraction to her than usual. Depending upon the other cards in your Mars period, this attraction could have a positive or negative outcome. If Kamala is just a friend or family member, this connection could mean that she will be more irritating to you at this time. It may take a lot of patience on your part to not get into an argument. In a business relationship, this connection would be good only if the two of you are working on a common goal. If not, this could cause competition or fighting of one kind or another. Mars also governs legal matters so it is important to be careful with someone who is Mars to you. Also, do not engage in legal battles with Kamala or anyone for that matter, if the Mars cards in your yearly spread are weak. Regardless of what specific kind of relationship you have with Kamala, it is always a good idea to be cautious with Mars energy. It is also recommended to study all the cards you have in Mars to see if there are potential challenges present. If not, you can expect to enjoy this invigorating influence coming at you via Kamala.

Key Phrases for this Connection

Kamala and I have a lot of competitive energies this year.

We can get the best of this situation by working together on the same side, towards a common goal or enemy.

Kamala inspires me to action and for that I am grateful.

I feel great passion, lust and anger for Kamala.

Note: This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is not as strong as the ones that do not. However, this is still a possible indication that they will play a part in your life during this time frame

Your Second Connection

Kamala is Jupiter to You This Year

Having Kamala as a Jupiter influence in your cards this year is a good omen for you. Jupiter is generally considered one of the best influences and benefits all areas, but especially finances. Depending upon the nature of your relationship with Kamala, this could have several desirable outcomes. First of all, this connection helps with how well you get along with Kamala this year. She will feel more gently disposed to you this year as well as encouraged to be helpful to you. You may find that the two of you seem to click more and seem to have more in common. If the nature of your relationship allows it, Kamala will be financially helpful to you. If she is either a spouse or a business partner, you could see some definite financial rewards coming to you through their actions or support. For example, if Kamala is your spouse, this connection is a very strong indicator of them having a lot of financial success, which ultimately benefits you at the same time. She could even offer sound financial advice or direction. Since she is essentially Jupiter to you this entire year, follow their direction whenever possible and make sure you let her know that you are appreciative of her efforts. Your other cards in your Jupiter period may indicate specific areas that Kamala's involvement may benefit you. And she will mostly likely have some important role this year during your Jupiter period. Even if Kamala is just a friend or family member their influence will be beneficial to you in many ways this year. All in all, this is a connection to be thankful for as will definitely help you in one or more important ways.

Key Phrases for this Connection

I am grateful for the many blessings Kamala brings to me this year.

I open myself to receive the gifts being offered by Kamala and take time to acknowledge her and her contributions.

Note: This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is not as strong as the ones that do not. However, this is still a possible indication that they will play a part in your life during this time frame

Your Third Connection

Kamala is Mercury to You This Year

For this particular year, you are likely to have great communications with Kamala. If you have been wanting to share more of yourself intellectually or personally with her, this would be the best time to do that. This connection can also mean that the two of you take several short trips together. But the main focus is just communication. Any endeavors that you might be sharing this year will be helped by this influence. But keep in mind that one or both of you have to take a step forward to take advantage of this. It will not just 'happen' to you if you do nothing. Take a step forward and you will see that Kamala will do the same. There is never a time like now to open up and share.

The other ramification of this connection is that it causes Joseph to be in a supportive role to Kamala. And Joseph will essentially need to be willing to follow Kamala for the duration of this year. Kamala will be the leader this year in some important ways and his or her direction can be very rewarding for Joseph.

Key Phrases for this Connection

Kamala and I have a great communication ability this year.

I allow Kamala to lead me into new positive directions and enjoy where it is leading me.

Kamala and I have much to discuss and these discussions can transform our relationship this year.

Note: This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is not as strong as the ones that do not. However, this is still a possible indication that they will play a part in your life during this time frame

Your Fourth Connection

Kamala is Uranus to You This Year

Uranus is called the planet of the unexpected. It rules high technologies, real estate, astrology, and things that happen without warning. Having Kamala as a Uranus person to you this year means primarily that you will not be able to predict when and where you will see them. She will seem a little erratic from your point of view, even if she is actually a very reliable type personality. The rule for Uranus relationships is 'you can't have any attachment to this person.' If the nature of your relationship with Kamala allows this rule to be carried out, this connection should be no problem. However, if your relationship demands in some way that you know when and where Kamala will be in your life, you may find yourself becoming very frustrated at her as the year progresses. For example, if Kamala was someone who worked for you, you may become irritated at her's lack of punctuality or the fact that she didn't show up at that important meeting when you were really counting on her. If you are romantically involved with Kamala you may also experience some uncertainty about her. Will she show up or not? This is a connection that must be allowed freedom and as little expectation as possible. If you can do this, you will find that Kamala will be there when it is most important. This is the connection of friendship and true friendship does not have expectations. This year you are being given an opportunity to develop just that kind of true friendship with Kamala.

Key Phrases for this Connection

Though Kamala seems to be never be reliable and I never seem to know whether she is coming or going, this is not her intention.

Kamala can help me break free of attachments this year, and in doing so, become a true friend.

Kamala is helping me let go of needless expectations.

Note: This connection comes from an Underlying Card and thus is not as strong as the ones that do not. However, this is still a possible indication that they will play a part in your life during this time frame
